

Surgery Course 1 — Question Bank

TEST FIXTURE — synthetic structural document for automated tests. Not a medical reference.

Section A — Abdominal pain

1. Which point is classically tender in acute appendicitis?
 - A. Murphy's point
 - B. McBurney's point
 - C. Kehr's point
 - D. Castell's point
2. Which of the following is NOT typically part of the Alvarado score?
 - A. Migration of pain
 - B. Anorexia
 - C. Serum amylase
 - D. Leukocytosis
3. A 30-year-old woman of reproductive age presents with right iliac fossa pain. Which investigation should be performed first to exclude an important differential diagnosis?

- A. Serum lipase
 - B. Pregnancy test (β -hCG)
 - C. Barium enema
 - D. Colonoscopy
 - E. Upper GI endoscopy
4. In suspected appendicitis, a white cell count of $11.5 \times 10^9/L$:
- A. Confirms the diagnosis
 - B. Supports but does not confirm the diagnosis
 - C. Excludes the diagnosis
 - D. Indicates perforation

Section B — Biliary disease

1. Which sign is associated with acute cholecystitis?
- A. Murphy's sign
 - B. Psoas sign
 - C. Obturator sign
 - D. Rovsing's sign
2. All of the following are risk factors for gallstones EXCEPT:
- A. Female sex
 - B. Obesity
 - C. Rapid weight loss
 - D. Regular physical activity

3. ما هو الفحص الأولي المفضل عند الشك بحصى المرارة؟

أ. Ultrasound

ب. CT abdomen

ج. MRCP

د. Plain X-ray

Answer Key

Section A: 1. B 2. C 3. B 4. B

Section B: 1. A 2. D